

Conversations for an Engaged Community

at Forest Home Chapel
Free & Open to the Public

FALL 2019

Forest Home Chapel is pleased to present our fall series of community lectures addressing broad topics of social justice, the environment, politics, and the arts. Talks are about 50 minutes, followed by questions and discussion.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 7:00-8:30 P.M.

"Welcoming the Stranger: Immigrant Farmworkers in New York State"

The Cornell Farmworker Program is dedicated to improving the living and working conditions of farmworkers and their families. Negative media portrayal of immigrants raises important questions for how we treat those who harvest our food.

MARY JO DUDLEY

Director of the Cornell Farmworker Program
Department of Development Sociology, Cornell University

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 7:00-8:30 P.M.

"Wandering Minstrels of Ecosystem Services: the Movers and Shakers of Pollination"

Dr. Raguso studies plant-insect interactions from molecules to ecosystems. He is an integrative and comparative biologist with an interest in the chemical senses. "Everything begins with natural history."

ROBERT A. RAGUSO, PhD

Department of Neurobiology and Behavior, Cornell University

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 7:00-8:30 P.M.

"Mother Is Not Herself"

Moving beyond our fears about climate change to take action for a societal response that sustains life.

DON BARBER & MEGAN BARBER

Don was Caroline Town Supervisor for 22 years, and is a homebuilder and farmer. Megan currently consults to identify group wisdom, and is a mother, celebrant, and violinist.
